ROOSEVELT SATISFIED

President Pleased Over Result of Bear Hunt.

EAT UP ALL OF THE GAME

Presidential Party Devoured Three Bears, Six Deer, One Wild Turkey, Twelve Squirrels, One Duck and One Possum, But Ignored a Wild Cat.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 21.—"We got three bears, six deer, one wild turkey, twelve squirrels, one duck, one possum and one wild cat. We ate them all except the wild cat and there were times when we almost felt as if we could eat that."

This was President Roosevelt's summing up of the results of his hunt on Bayou Tensas and Bear lake. He arrived at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the residence of Leo Shields where he will be a guest until he makes his departure for Vicksburg. He came in on a full gallop and accompanied as he was by about a dozen of his hunting companions, all mounted and attired in hunting garb, the cavalcade presented a tableau as picturesque as it was animated. The president is slightly more bronzed than when he entered the wilderness from this point fifteen days ago but notwithstanding this fact and the additional circumstances that the stain on his clothes bears evidence of contact with the cane and other brush, he was never in better spirits in his life.

"Yes, we got three bears," he added, "all that we saw and I think a pretty good record. I am perfectly satisfied."

"You might add," interjected one of the Metcalf brothers, who had been the president's principal guide throughout the hunt, "that we hunted a country of vast extent and in which there were but five bears all told and that of those, as you see, we got three."

Assenting to this amplification of his statement the president entered upon an enthusiastic account of his hunt, of his life in camp and the meats which he had been supplied while there.

"Was the possum good?" he was asked.

"Absolutely the best dish we had, except the bear's liver," he responded with relish.

His Health Has Been Perfect.

The president declared that his health had been perfect, his appetite equally good and with the exception of a day or two lost on account of rain he had been in the saddle every day from daylight to darkness. He ended by declaring that he had never in his life had finer sport.

The arrival of the party brought out the fact that a third bear had been killed on Friday, a two-year-old, which was slain by one of the Osborn brothers when it was in fierce fight with the dogs. The one bear that was obtained by the president was killed on Thursday and the killing was witnessed by one of the McKenzies and Alex Arnold. They agree in saying that the president's bearing was extremely sportsmanlike. The animal had been chased by the dogs for three hours, the president following all the time. When at last they came within hearing distance the president dismounted from his horse, dashed off his coat and tore into the cane brake, coming within twenty paces of the beast. The dogs were coming up rapidly with the president's favorite "Rowdy" in the lead and the brute had stopped to bid defiance to them when the president sent a bullet from his 45-70 rifle hurling through the thicket after it. The shot went through the animal's lights and would have been fatal, but with the little life left in it, the bear turned upon the dogs. The president concluded to end it all and lodged a second bullet between the shoulders, which broke the creature's neck.

Other members of the party were not long in coming up and the president was so rejoiced over his good fortune that he also embraced each of his companions. They were equally happy and in the exuberance of the moment Ennolds went to the extent of telling the president that he, the president, was "no tenderfoot."

The president responded by presenting him with a $20 note.

In honor of the president, this place (Stamboul) has been changed to Roosevelt.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

One Man Killed and Another Badly Injured.

Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 21.—In an automobile accident here Harry Wood, aged forty, was killed and Earl E. Smith, an automobile tester for a local factory, had his right arm broken. Smith was driving home when Wood and three other men asked for a ride. Smith took the men into his machine. While running about forty miles an hour the automobile began skidding and Wood, becoming frightened, grabbed the controller, which swerved the machine into the ditch, where it hit a trolley pole. The other three men were uninjured.

Shoots His Wife and Himself.

Brunswick, Ga., Oct. 21.—Crazed with drink and jealousy, William Rainey, a young grocer of this city, shot and mortally wounded his wife. He then placed the revolver to his head and fired, dying instantly.

SMALL HISSED AND JEERED

Chicago Strikers Shout Insults at Their Deposed Leader.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Sylvester J. Small, former president of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, was hissed and jeered by 600 members of the Chicago local union before whom he appeared in an effort to justify his action in seeking to end the strike. Nearly a third of those present left the hall after shouting insults at their deposed leader. When order had been restored action was taken increasing the assessment upon leased wire operators from one day's pay per week, as at present, to two days' pay per week for the benefit of the strike treasury, and four operators were suspended from the union for nonpayment of their assessments. Vice President W. W. Beattie of Washington was named as the choice of the Chicago local for successor to Small.

O'Leary Finishes Long Walk.

Cincinnati, Oct. 21.—Dan O'Leary, champion long distance walker, finished his 1,000 mile walk Sunday. He walked one mile during each hour for 1,000 consecutive hours and although he is nearly sixty-five years old he at no time during this test of his strength has shown any signs of faltering.

TO SUCCEED HEINZE

Seth M. Milliken Chosen President of Mercantile Bank.

WILL BACK UP INSTITUTION

Clearing House Committee Declares That the Mercantile National Bank Is Solvent—Heinze Faction Is Ousted From Control.

New York, Oct. 21.—At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Mercantile National bank Sunday afternoon, Seth M. Milliken was elected president of the bank to succeed F. Augustus Heinze, resigned. At the same time William Skinner and Geresch H. Milliken were elected additional vice presidents, Geresch H. Milliken being added to the board of directors.

The clearing house committee met with the directors of the bank and the two boards were in session for about four hours. Later William Sherer, manager of the clearing house association, on behalf of the association gave out the following statement:

"A committee of the clearing house has examined the several banks of the association that have been under criticism and finds them solvent. The clearing house committee has decided to render them such assistance as they may think necessary."

Neither the members of the board of the Mercantile National nor the clearing house committee would add to these announcements. The statement of Mr. Sherer, is, however, taken to mean that the clearing house committee is perfectly satisfied with the reorganization of the Mercantile National and will see that that bank is enabled to meet any crisis that the widely published stories about its condition following the collapse of the Heinze corner in United Copper may force it to face.

Disposed of His Holdings.

After the meeting of the Mercantile National directors, E. R. Thomas, one of the directors, announced that he had disposed of all his holdings in the Hamilton bank to a syndicate composed of men interested in the bank. This action had been expected.

Mr. Milliken, who heads the new list of officers of the Mercantile National, is one of the best known of New York capitalists. He has been for some time a member of the board of directors of the bank. He is a rich man and a member of the firm of Deering, Milliken & Co.

He is an officer or director in a score of Northern woolen companies and Southern cotton companies. He is well known in business circles and is said to be the choice of the clearing house committee to the position to which he was elected.

William Skinner, who was elected vice president of the bank, is president of the William Skinner Manufacturing company and is a director in a large number of railroad companies, including the New York, New Haven and Hartford. Geresch H. Milliken is a son of Seth M. Milliken.

While none of those connected with the Mercantile National or the clearing house would discuss any phase of the matter, it is known that it is the belief of the clearing house committee that the election of Mr. Milliken as head of the bank will relieve the uneasiness in the financial district and the action was taken Sunday that it might have a quieting effect on the market on the opening of the Stock Exchange.

Charles W. Moore Sunday announced his resignation from the directorate of every local bank with which he was connected.

STAGE COACH HELD UP.

But Lone Robber Obtains Only a Small Sum of Money.

Salt Lake City, Oct. 21.—The Murray stage, used for the conveyance of passengers on the line between Bingham Junction and Sandy, was brought to a halt by a masked robber at Loondahl. The driver and the male passengers in the coach were ordered down from their seats and when the robber faced them with drawn revolvers they readily complied with his demand for money and valuables.

Only $12 was obtained from the party, it was said. The bandit escaped unmolested in the darkness.

Court Order Ignored.

Kansas City, Oct. 21.—All the theaters of this city were open Sunday in violation of the Sunday closing order of Judge Wallace of the criminal court. Scores of city detectives and deputy county marshals were busy securing evidence against the violators of the Sunday closing order which will be presented Tuesday to the same judge that has already indicted all the theatrical managers here for keeping their playhouses open on Sunday.

DISASTROUS PRAIRIE FIRE.

Property Loss in Minnesota Is Large and May Be Increased.

Barnesville, Minn., Oct. 21.—The worst prairie fire in years is devastating the northeastern part of Wilkin county and seems to defy all efforts to check its progress. Three large farms have been entirely wiped out and there seems no question but that others will go. The damage done thus far is estimated at not less than $50,000.

The fire was started Saturday afternoon by a boy who was playing with matches on the farm of Charles Fundcock and all the buildings on that place, including the house, barns, granaries and sheds, were destroyed. The wind was light and the people living in the path of the flames had ample chance to escape, no lives having been lost as far as is known. The entire region is very dry, however, and the flames spread rapidly. Ten large haystacks, containing between 800 and 900 tons of hay, were destroyed in an hour during Sunday afternoon.

The old Lavalley farm and the Evans place are in ruins and farmers throughout the region which is burning are working hard to check the conflagration by plowing up the country. If a high wind should spring up their work would be fruitless, but up to Sunday night the wind was light and the progress of the flames, which was in a southwesterly direction, was comparatively slow. The lack of wind is the only feature in favor of the farmers, as the absence of rain for days past has converted the prairies into huge tinder fields.

Considerable alarm was felt for the town of Lawndale on the Great Northern line, as it was directly in the path of the fire, but the town escaped without damage, though all the country about it was laid waste. No other places will be reached until the flames have traveled several miles, and it is hoped that enough ground can be broken up within the next few hours to check the fire's progress unless a strong wind comes up.

TWO HUNTERS ARE SHOT.

One Minnesota Man Killed and Another Seriously Injured.

Duluth, Oct. 21.—Two desperate hunting accidents are reported from the iron ranges, one man, John Filta, timberman at the New York Steel company's mines at Biwabik, having been killed, and August Ekarratz of Ely probably fatally wounded. Both accidents are due to the carelessness of others.

John Jatka, master mechanic of the Kellogg mine at Biwabik, was out hunting partridges and seeing a bird fired at it. He was startled to hear an agonizing cry of a man whom he could not see, and realizing that he had wounded somebody started to investigate. He found John Filta writhing on the ground, severely wounded. Mr. Jatka secured assistance as soon as possible and got the wounded man to a hospital, but the wound was mortal and the man died in a few hours.

August Skarratz of Ely was out hunting with several companions and when separated from them was shot in the back with a load of buckshot. It has not developed who shot him, but it is said to have not been any member of his hunting party. His recovery is doubtful.

MYSTERY GROWS DEEPER.

Skeleton of Man Who Disappeared a Year Ago Is Found.

Duluth, Oct. 21.—The mysterious disappearance of Fred Peterson of Two Harbors a year ago has been cleared, but just how he came to his death may never be known.

The skeleton of a man lying beside the skeleton of a buck deer was found in the woods between the Split Rock and the Gooseberry rivers, and from some articles found in the clothing it is believed that the disappearance of Peterson has been solved. The rifle that Peterson carried has also been identified. The weapon lay near the skeleton.

The mystery now is, how did Peterson get killed? Had he killed the deer and was he packing it out of the woods and was himself mistaken for a deer and shot? Did Peterson wound the deer whose skeleton lay on the ground, and did the animal attack and kill him?

The Daughter Balked.

"I thought," said old Groucherly, "that I could save money by refusing to give my consent to my daughter's marriage with young Huggins, but it's no go."

"What's the trouble?" queried the friend of the family.

"She declines to elope," explained the old man, with a large, open faced sigh.—Chicago News.

His Scheme.

Snoggs—My daughter is going to marry young Seroggs. Boggs—Why, I thought you hated him. Snoggs—I do. This is a scheme of mine to have my wife become his mother-in-law.—Cleveland Leader.

Hear one side and you will be in the dark. Hear both sides and all will be clear.—Halliburton.

BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED

Incendiary Fire Destroys Section of Colchester, Ill.

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 21.—Fire supposed to be of incendiary origin destroyed $50,000 worth of property in the business section of Colchester, seven miles west of here. The flames were discovered in the rear of Carson's hardware building shortly after 11 o'clock at night. The fire spread rapidly and a hardware store, book store, undertaking establishment, furniture house, feed store and two dwellings were consumed before the fire was under control.

The Macomb fire department was sent to Colchester on a special train and helped to save other property. This is the most extensive of a series of fires at Colchester in the past few months, all of incendiary origin.

French Force Ambushed.

Paris, Oct. 21.—A dispatch has been received from General Drude, commander of the French expeditionary force in Morocco, saying that a French reconnoitering party was ambushed Sunday while proceeding in the direction of Taddert. Captain Jendey and one private of the Chasseurs Afrique were killed and six men wounded.

Many Fishing Boats Missing.

Boycotting in 1735. This may be read in the Daily Courier of 1735:

"There being some Indian and French silks now selling by auction in this town and two or three brewers' wives in the Earl of Meath's liberty having bought a few pieces thereof, the master weavers and dyers as well as journeymen of those corporations give notice by beat of drum that they would not drink any liquors whatever brewed by the husbands of the said ladies, who would encourage foreign manufacturers when there are numbers of poor weavers in a starving condition in this town and all over the kingdom for want of employment."—London Notes and Queries.

TAXES WILL BE HIGHER

Rate for Coming Year Will be Considerably Higher Than it Was Last Year

CITY SCHOOL RATE RAISED

With Raised State Levy and Big Boost on County Levy Tax Payers Will Feel it

Taxes will be higher next year. The rates have not been fully computed as yet, but nearly all the levies have been sent in to the county auditor and a pronounced raise seems to be a certainty. The state rate is increased .70 of a mill over last year, while the board of county commissioners levied an additional one mill for road and bridge purposes this year, doubling this year's levy for this fund. It was found necessary also to double the amount to be raised for the general county revenue fund in order to overcome a deficit occasioned by the extremely low rate of last year, thus adding another 1.72 mills. Although the amount for bond interest is slightly decreased, the total rate for state and county is boosted 3.40 mills.

In the city, the schools have asked for an amount which will jump the rate 6 mills on this one item alone in excess of last year.

The city council has not fixed the levy for the municipality, but will doubtless do so tonight. Assuming the amount to be about the same as a year ago, the total rate for tax-payers of Brainerd will be upwards of 40 mills if the school levy goes in at 20 mills as requested by the board of education.

STAGE FRIGHT.

Actors Have Been Known to Die From the Malady.

Perhaps the most terrible malady which can attack the actor in the course of his performance in the peculiar disease known as stage fright. Through its evil effects strong men and women have been known to faint, break down and do many other queer things, and there are even on record several cases of people who have died through this horrible seizure.

Some years ago a young novice who was to appear for the first time arrived at the theater very white and shaky. Brandy being given him, he appeared slightly better, but no sooner had he set his foot on the stage than he clapped his hand to his heart, with a low cry, and fell down dead. The overwhelming sensation induced by stage fright had attacked his heart, and his theatrical career ended thus even at its beginning.

Quite as ghastly was the case of the young amateur actress who, strangely enough, had never experienced stage fright when playing with her fellow amateurs, but who was seized with the attack on making her first professional appearance. She went through the scene aided by the prompter, her eyes glazed, her hands rigid, and when the exit came it proved her exit from life's stage as well as the mimic boards, for she staggered to her dressing room and fell into a comatose state, from which she never recovered.

Perhaps, however, the most peculiar instance of all was that of the veteran performer who had gone through thirty years of stage work without experiencing this malady. One night, however, he confided to a fellow player that a quite unaccountable nervousness had suddenly taken hold of him and that he did not think he could ever act again.

His comrade laughed at the notion and urged him to go on, as usual, but his astonishment may well be conceived when the poor old player went on the stage and, after making several vain efforts to speak, fell back and expired. The doctor who made the post-mortem examination stated that death was due to failure of the heart's action, evidently induced by the presence of an attack of stage fright.—Pearson's Weekly.

Fountain Inkhorns—Fountain Pens. Matthew Henry, the English biblical commentator, who lived from 1662 to 1714, in his commentary on the vision of the "candlestick all of gold and two olive trees by it," mentions "fountain inkhorns" and "fountain pens." What were they? He says:

"This candlestick had one bowl, or common receiver, on the top, into which oil was continually dropping, and from it, by seven secret pipes or passages, it was diffused to the seven lamps, so that without any further care they received oil as fast as they wasted it (as in those which we call fountain inkhorns or fountain pens). They never wanted, nor were ever glutted, and so kept always burning clear."—London Notes and Queries.

HE'D SUNDQUIST--- DISCHARGED OTHERS

Judge Allbright Took that Action in Regard to Men Arrested for Alleged Riot

DEFENDANTS HEARD TODAY

Were Put on the Stand and Told
Their Story of Occurrences of That Evening

After the conclusion of the testimony in the municipal court this morning in the cases of the men charged with rioting Judge Allbright held James Sundquist to the grand jury discharging the other four.

The first man sworn by the defense was Arthur Witham, one of the defendants. He had heard the evidence given for the state. He was one of the crowd in front of the City hotel at that time. Came there from the Northern Pacific depot. There was no one with him. He went to the depot between 11:20 and 11:30 that evening. Went to the depot alone. Was going to Fargo on No. 13. Went early because he did not see anyone he knew and thought he would get a lunch at Herbert's. He stayed at the depot until he heard hollering and noise on Front street. Did not know there was any trouble. Came over in the direction of the noise. Went across Front street and stepped up on the sidewalk. There was a crowd there when he got there. Some were on the sidewalk and some on the street. Did not see anyone striking or beating anybody. Did not know definitely that there had been any striking or beating until he returned from Fargo. Did not know what the crowd was doing. Saw Officers Hurley and Barney. Saw Officer Hurley with a man. Did not see what he did with him. Was standing still when he saw him. Saw Barney afterwards when in front of the Ideal. It was between five and ten minutes after he came that he saw Hurley with the man. Witness walked up toward Ideal saloon. Saw Hurley with the man there. Then walked back toward the City hotel again and went back to the depot and took the train for Fargo. First he knew he was wanted was when he got back to Brainerd. Heard so at the depot and went over and asked the chief of police if he had a warrant for him and surrendered himself to the police. Did not know there was any trouble going on. Knew Sundquist by sight but did not see him that night. Did not see any of the defendants on the afternoon of the 8th. First he saw of the disturbance was seeing the crowd crossing Sixth street.

Michael Goederz was sworn. Is one of the defendants. Was at the depot and was at Front street. When he got to the crowd there was nothing doing. Hurley but did not see Barney. Saw Hurley ran by him swinging a gun Crowd was surrounding a center. Witness was attracted by crowd running. Was on Front street between Sixth and Seventh streets when the noise started. Did not see any beating being done. Had been up around the shops. Came from there and had not been with the crowd that came from the depot. Had not had any talk with anybody about what was to happen. Did not know what was causing the crowd to collect. Did not do anything while on Front street. Had no part in the trouble. Went to the depot afterwards to see Witham off. Did not see Sundquist that evening.

Officer Hurley, who was on the stand when THE DISPATCH went to press Saturday, swore to picking up a grip on Fifth street, also to getting one from Car Inspector McCauley, which was found east of the depot on the tracks. Also to turning a man over to Officer Winters to put on the 5:45 train the next morning. Man was not injured. Took this man to protect him.

He was not injured. Did not know his name. Witness took man to hotel and paid his hotel bill in the morning.

In the course of the examination witness used the word "scab." Court ask him what he meant by the word and he said he did not know.

Following the testimony of Officer Hurley, John McCauley, car inspector for the Northern Pacific railroad, was called to the stand. He swore to the finding of the torn suit case containing clothes, etc., and the passport of one Galler, but did not know anything further in the matter. He was in the west end of the yard at the time the trouble occurred and knew nothing of it.

George L. Forsythe, yard clerk for the Northern Pacific, was called. He swore to Operator Pfoutz bringing a man with his face injured into the yard office. Did not know where he came from, where he went or how he was hurt. Witness was in the west yard part of the time between 11 and 12 o'clock and part of the time in office at depot.

John Anderson, night ticket clerk at the Northern Pacific depot, was sworn but added nothing to the sum total of knowledge regarding the affair.

Mayor Wise was sworn. Had read that there was a strike on but did not know it from his own knowledge. There were no additional men on duty at that time so far as he knew. Chief might have put men on. Was at his ranch at the time the trouble occurred.

On the conclusion of the evidence of the state Judge Fleming moved to dismiss the complaint and discharge the defendants on the ground that the state had not proved its case.

In reply Judge Warner urged that the state had been hampered by the unwillingness of the witnesses, especially the police, to tell what had occurred. The county attorney he said had only taken up the case when the chief of police had sworn out the complaint. While he would not charge that the police had flunked, he was more than half willing to admit that they had. He believed that the riot had been clearly proven, and that these men were in the crowd that night. He thought the matter should be held to the grand jury for examination.

Judge Fleming, in reply, said the case had been started under excitement. If there had been a riot the state had not got hold of the right parties with the exception of Sundquist. There had been a mistake made and the men charged were as innocent as himself of any participation in riot.

Judge Allbright in denying the motion to dismiss stated that in his opinion the disturbance of the peace had been proven, though the connection of the defendants with it was not as clearly proven as it should perhaps be. Yet he believed that there was sufficient evidence adduced to warrant him in asking the defense to present its explanation of the occurrences.

Japs Are Excluded.

Duluth, Oct. 19.—For the first time in its history Duluth had a taste of the Japanese question. Two Japs, man and wife, who came down from Port Arthur on the steamer America, were refused admission to the country by William H. Dean, United States immigration inspector. This is the first time that any Japanese have been excluded from the United States from the port of Duluth. The reason given by Inspector Dean was that they had no passports from the Japanese government.

Lumber Inspector Cremated.

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 19.—The sawmill of the Kern Manufacturing company was destroyed by fire Friday and William B. Lapham, a lumber inspector, was burned to death. The fire started under the band saw and spread so rapidly that the employees had to run for their lives. The loss will reach $75,000.

VERY SUCCESSFUL MEETING HELD

Fall Meeting of Crow Wing County
Teachers' Association a Big Success

LARGEST ATTENDANCE SECURED

At Meeting Held on Saturday—
Duluth Celebrities Present at Meeting

The Crow Wing Teachers' association held its regular fall meeting in Brainerd on the above dates. In point of number of teachers in attendance this was the largest and most successful meeting ever held in the county. The first session convened in the court house on Friday at 2 o'clock p. m., 65 teachers and a number of visitors being present. In the absence of the president and vice president Miss Mary Cosgrove was elected president pro tem.

The first hour was occupied in a practical talk on school matters by County Superintendent Wilson. By a system of cards distributed among the teachers he succeeded in getting even the young teachers to talk and take an active part in the discussions. The superintendent certainly convinced those present that the right hand period in numeration, in arithmetic should be called the "unite" period instead of hundreds as so many teachers, both rural and city, have been erroneously calling it for several years past.

Miss Howland, of Ft. Ripley, read a scholarly and forcible paper on "What Rural Schools Should do for Eighth Grade Pupils." Miss Howland believes in holding eighth grade pupils in the home school until they have completed the eight grades provided in the county course of study and to that end she urged the following as helpful in securing this result: An intelligent school board, a competent teacher, graduating exercises and diplomas for those completing the course in a satisfactory manner as evidenced by the high school certificates in the preliminary subjects.

D. C. Henderson ably discussed this paper taking the same ground as that taken by the reader of the paper.

The evening session, which was held in the high school room was a most enjoyable affair. Miss Long, instructor of reading and expression in the Duluth Normal school entertained a large audience of teachers and citizens for an hour and a half with dramatic and humorous selections. All agreed that Miss Long is a past master of expression.

Mrs. Dial, supervisor of music in the Brainerd schools, provided several fine musical numbers rendered by two of her pupils, which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

The Saturday morning session opened at 8:30 a. m. Miss Mabel M. Parker of the Oak Lawn school read an excellent paper on the "Aim in Teaching Geography." Geography is an important factor in school work in fitting the children for intelligent and useful business and social life, and in cultivating a love for home and country. Mrs. Sylvia Persson gave an interesting talk on school room decorations, illustrating her remarks with elegant festoons of rope made from the brilliant red rose hips found so plentiful in the country at this time. A number of large cards of forest leaves in their rich autumnal colors, tastefully arranged, were also shown. President Bohannon, who was present throughout the meeting, then gave an hour's talk on the work of the teacher. His address was full of good things and was closely listened to by the teachers. President Bohannon and Miss Long made many friends among the teachers during the meeting.

The business session showed the association to be in good shape financially, a neat sum being on hands after paying all expenses. The following were elected officers of the association for the ensuing year: Pres., Mary Cosgrove; Vice Pres., Lizzie Kelly, Sec., Phyllis Kellehan; Treas., Margaret Friedsam. PRESS COM.

An Actor's Power.

An example of how an audience may be deceived by gestures, delivery, facial expression, eye and voice was once given by an English actor named Dugazon, then the idol of the hour in London. He was standing at the wings between the acts of a tragedy. All at once he threw Othello's scarlet mantle over his shoulders, had the curtain rung up and stalked to the footlights. Fixing his haggard eyes upon them, he said in a sepulchral voice, "One lamp, two lamps, three lamps," and so on up to ten, moving majestically and impressing on each exclamation an ascending vigor so well accentuated and so serious that he held the audience breathless, stupefied and enchanted under the pressure of a tremendous magnetism. Then he folded his drapery haughtily and stalked off the stage like a hero agitated by the most fiery passion. Thunders of applause followed.

FOOT BALL NOTES

The Brainerd High School having no game in their schedule for Saturday, Oct. 19, played a very snappy, interesting game against the heavy Northeast Brainerd team, although the school team were outweighted five pounds to the man they showed their supremacy over the East side with speed, outplaying their opponents at every point of the game, the final score being 12 to 0 in favor of the school team. The school team kicked off to East Brainerd over the goal, the ball being returned ten yards, the ball then saw-sawed in the middle of the field, finally Mills putting again over the goal line, Lund, of East Brainerd, getting the ball, tried to advance the ball, but Cullen, the fast left end of the high school tackled him on the two yard line throwing him back for a safety—score 2 to 0 in favor of the school team, there was no further scoring for either side in this half.

The second half opened with the high school receiving the kick and after a series of line bucks off of tackle by Mills, Ousdahl, Abear, who although not being a high school man filled in place to keep up the strength of the team. Parker carrying the ball on a pretty end run, advanced the ball to the two yard line, Abear being pushed over for a touch down. He missed goal, the school team again received the kick, Mahlum being hurt he being kicked in the head, and was still dazed when time was called but played finer than ever getting into every play like a Trojan through the remainder of the game. In the last part of the last half Parker made a pretty forward pass to Oushal for a touch-down, Alderman missed goal. Score 12 to 0. There was no more scoring for either side, the half ending with the ball in the high school possession and their 20 yard line. Alderman played his usual steady game following the ball in every play and tackling true and hard. The school team is now playing fast ball and with the necessary practice and royal support ought to give Aitkin a rub when played here next Saturday. The game with Little Falls is to be called off.

The North Star team was out for practice Sunday morning and showed up good. The team will most likely consist of Cullen, Little, Hans and Fritz Koop, Mahlum, Barron, Forsythe, Oushal, Horn, Sanborn, Willis, Abear, Parker, Clouston. The team is trying hard to arrange games with some out of town team and will make a good showing this year.

The North Star second team defeated the South Sides Sunday afternoon by a score of 45 to 0, touch-down being made by Ousdahl 3 Mills 1, Clouston 4—Clouston was the star of the game all around.

A FOOL QUESTION.

Asked In a Railway Station, It Won a Caustic Reply.

He stood at the ticket window slowly unrolling an old fashioned leather bag, while a dozen men stood behind him, driven to madness by the shouting of the gatemen calling their trains. After he got about a yard and a half of bag unrolled he suddenly stopped and said to the ticket clerk:

"Is that clock right?"

"No, sir."

"Tain't?" shouted the startled passenger, stooping down and making a sudden clutch at a lean and hungry carpetbag. "Tain't right? Well, what 'n the name o' common sense do ye have it stuck up there for, then?"

"To fool people," calmly replied the clerk. "That's what we're here for—to fool people and misdirect them."

"Great Scott!" said the passenger, hurriedly rolling up his bag. "I've missed my train. I'll report you, I will!"

"Won't do any good. It's the company's orders. They pay a man to go round every morning to mix and muddle up all the clocks, so that not one of them will be right and no two of them alike."

The passenger gasped twice or thrice, but could not say anything. The ticket clerk went on:

"It's the superintendent's idea. He is fond of fun, enjoys a joke, and it does him good to see a man jump about and hear him jaw when he buys a ticket and then finds his train has been gone two hours."

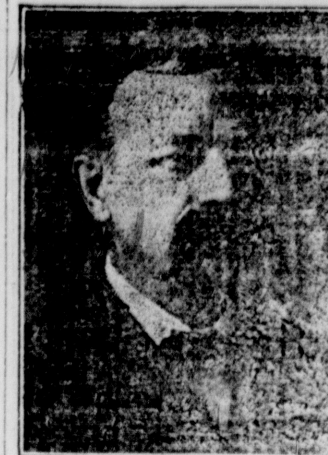

"Which way is this clock wrong?" the passenger asked in despairing accents—"fast or slow?"

"Don't know. That's part of the fun not to let anybody in the building know anything about the right time. All I know is that it's about ninety minutes wrong one way or the other."

With a hollow groan the passenger grabbed his bag and made a rush for the door, upsetting any man who got in his way. In about two minutes he came back, crestfallen and meek, and took his place at the end of the line. When once more he walked up to the window he said, as he named his station and bought his ticket like a sane man:

"What made you talk to me like you did?"

"What made you ask questions like a fool?"—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Curious Lake.

In the midst of Kildine, an island in the North sea, is perhaps the most curious lake in the world. The surface of its waters is quite fresh and supports fresh water creatures and fresh water vegetation, but deep down it is as salty as the bluest depths of the sea, and sponges and salt water fish live and have their being, to the delight and despair of all scientists.—London Saturday Review.

Origin of "Blackleg."

"Blackleg" has become so familiar in its special labor application that this is now more common even than the use of the word in its original sense. But labor so far has not shortened "blackleg" to "leg," as the sporting world has in speaking of sharpers. How "blackleg" came by its swindling significance is a puzzle which even an argument before the full court of queen's bench in a libel case failed to solve. It has been traced to the former habit among turf frequenters of wearing black topboots, but others have seen an allusion to the legs of gamecocks. Trades unionism adopted it simply as a term of abuse, like "scab."—London Chronicle.

Squaring the Account.

An old negro in a small Georgia town had helped himself to some of a white neighbor's chickens. The owner traced the theft to him, however, and brought him to task.

"Look here, Uncle Mose," he said, "I don't mind the chickens so much—I would have given you one if you had asked for it—but I don't like to see an old man commit a sin like that. What are you going to do at the judgment day when we appear before the Lord and those chickens are brought up as evidence against you?"

"Yo' low dem chickens gwine be dar, Marse Will?" the old man asked. "They certainly will," was the answer, given with great impressiveness. "Den," Uncle Mose said, "Ah gwine say, 'Is dese hyah yo' chickens, Marse Will?' an' yo'll say, 'Yas, an' Ah'll say, 'All right, sah, yo' take 'em!'"—Kansas City Independent.

Sir Walter Scott's Dogs.

Scott was perhaps the most devoted dog lover that ever was. Any one who has ever read Lockhart's "Life" will readily admit this. "Scott and his dogs" is a well known picture and has become a well known phrase. Who can forget the descriptions of Camp and Maida? It was Camp who once bit the baker and was severely reprimanded for his misdeed, after which he never heard the word "baker" mentioned, even in the most casual way, without crawling under the table in the most dire distress. Scott felt Camp's death acutely. It is said that on the evening of the sad event he excused himself from attending a dinner party, pleading as his apology "the death of a dear old friend." Maida was, if possible, even more beloved. She was a cross between a wolf and a deerhound. Scores of artists painted Maida's likeness. Once a friend of Scott's picked up at Munich a common snuffbox, price 1 franc, with Maida for a frontispiece and the superscription, "Der Liebbling Hund von Walter Scott," showing how far the fame of the dog lover had traveled. Maida died of sheer old age.—Westminster Gazette.

"Yes, sir, he wuz afraid o' the banks bustin' on him, an' so he buried his money."

"Has he got it yet?"

"No. He forgot to blaze the tree whar it was, an' the owner put up a sign, 'No Trespassing on These Grounds.'"—Atlanta Constitution.

AMERICANS ARRESTED

Indianapolis Man and His Wife Apprehended in Russia.

CHARGE NOT MADE PUBLIC

But William English Walling and His Wife and Sister-in-Law Are Placed in Prison at St. Petersburg—Prisoner Is a Wealthy Socialist.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—William English Walling of Indianapolis, Ind., his wife and sister-in-law, Miss Rosa Stransky, were arrested in this city Sunday night by a force of gendarmes because of their association with several members of the Finnish progression party. They were held at the gendarme headquarters at a late hour Sunday night. A representative of the American embassy appeared at the headquarters in their behalf but he could take no action until today.

Kellogg Durland, another American and a friend of Mr. Walling's, who has been in St. Petersburg gathering material for a series of lectures, also was taken into custody but later he was released.

Mr. Walling is a wealthy Socialist. He is a grandson of the late William H. English, who was a vice presidential candidate in 1880, when General Hancock ran for the American presidency. For several years past Mr. Walling has taken an active interest in the Russian struggle and this is the third time he has visited Russia.

The Finns with whom the Wallings have been associated also were arrested. In this party there are three men and one woman. The woman is the wife of Professor Malmberg of Helsingfors university. The Finns have been in St. Petersburg for several days. They have been under close police observation all the time. Saturday and Sunday night the entire party was taken into custody.

The arrest took place at the Hotel de France, one of the leading hostleries in this city. The rooms of the Walling party and the Finns were thoroughly searched by a colonel of gendarmes and several assistants. This search lasted several hours. All the baggage and effects of the Walling party and the four Finns were opened and the gendarmes took possession of a large quantity of books and documentary material.

Prisons Are Crowded.

Mr. Walling and his wife, who is known to the literary world as Annie Stransky, and Miss Stransky were taken to the gendarme headquarters because all the prisons are overcrowded and no other place to confine them could be found.

Mr. Walling had just returned to St. Petersburg from attending the Socialist congresses in Germany and France. He had also spent several months recently in Geneva, where he frequented the headquarters of the Russian revolutionists. He is intimate with many leading revolutionists and Liberals. Mr. Walling is accused by the police of furnishing financial aid to the revolution, though this charge is not the foundation for his arrest.

After much telephoning by the authorities places were finally found for the prisoners. The three Americans were separated. Mr. Walling was sent to the detention prison, his wife to the women's prison and Miss Stransky, who apparently is regarded as the most important captive, to the new jail recently built for the famous third section, or the secret police.

It was impossible to learn what the charge was against the Finns. This will determine the accusation against Mr. Walling, but a member of the secret service who accompanied the gendarmes who made the arrest said the order of arrest had originated in his section and that the secret service had been shadowing Mr. Walling constantly for two years past.

The police have been instructed to look also for James M. James, a New York newspaper man who has been over here for a New York weekly and several Socialist papers. Mr. James left St. Petersburg several days ago and has not yet returned. He was taken into custody twice during raids on revolutionary gatherings in this city, but was released upon proving that he was present in his journalistic capacity only.

WILLIAM ENGLISH WALLING

Is a Grandson of a Former Vice Presidential Candidate.

Indianapolis, Oct. 21.—William English Walling of this city, who is mentioned in a dispatch from St. Petersburg as having been arrested there with his wife and sister-in-law, has for the past several years been engaged in "settlement work" among the poorer classes. It is thought his energies in this direction in St. Petersburg brought about his arrest, together with his wife and sister-in-law.

Walling is a grandson of the late W. H. English, who was a candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket in 1880. On the death of W. H. English he was left property to the value of about $500,000. He still owns considerable real estate in Indianapolis. His wife is of the Jewish faith.

The arrest of Mr. Walling in St. Petersburg bears a striking resemblance to certain reports of his arrest in the Russian capital in January, 1906, which originated with the editor of a Jewish newspaper in New York, but which were at once denied from St. Petersburg and declared to be without foundation.

Mr. Walling is thirty years old. He is a son of Dr. William Walling of Chicago, formerly United States consul at Edinburgh. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago. He inherited a considerable fortune from the estate of his grandfather, William H. English of Indianapolis, and after working among the poor of Chicago and New York city he associated himself with the university settlement at Rivington and Eldridge streets. He lived there for two years and was an intimate associate of J. G. Phelps Stokes and Robert Hunter.

NEVER HAD AN ACCOUNT.

Mrs. Chadwick Did Not Deposit Money in a Pittsburg Bank.

Pittsburg, Oct. 21.—Thomas W. Welsh, Jr., second vice president of the Second National bank of Pittsburg, says that Mrs. Cassie Chadwick never had an account at the bank. At the time Mrs. Chadwick is said to have deposited $300,000 Welsh was cashier of the institution.

How Mrs. Chadwick got the pass book of the Second National bank, and who made the entries, cannot be explained here. Some of the contents of the deposition made by Mrs. Chadwick while in the penitentiary at Columbus, O., to A. Lee Well of this city, attorney for W. C. Jutte, in the litigation which is pending against James W. Friend and James N. Hoffstot have been made public. The depositions have been kept sealed, but it is said Mrs. Chadwick swore that Friend and Hoffstot loaned her various sums of money aggregating $800,000. The Jutte case will be argued before the supreme court today, when it is said the depositions will be made public.

WILL REMAIN A SECRET.

Confession of Banker Beckwith Will Not Be Made Public.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—The confession of Banker Beckwith of Oberlin, which first laid bare to federal officials the huge financial transactions of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, will remain a secret of the government. United States Marshal Frank M. Chandler, to whom the confession of the Oberlin banker, now dead, was made, returned to Washington Sunday, where he laid before the department of justice the question of whether the Beckwith stenographic statement made to Marshal Chandler should be given out for publication. The department of justice, Mr. Chandler said, informed him that the matter was wholly optional with him and that he will continue to suppress it for the reason that the charges contained in it against many persons, while they were believed by Beckwith to be true, were false.

Nathan Loeser, receiver in bankruptcy for the Chadwick estate, when informed that the Pittsburg bank officials denied that Mrs. Chadwick had an account with the Second National bank of that city, replied that he now expects that all of the pass books of the estate with other banks will also prove worthless.

CONDITION UNSATISFACTORY

Emperor Francis Joseph Fails to Materially Improve.

Vienna, Oct. 21.—Emperor Francis Joseph passed a rather unsatisfactory night. He was disturbed frequently by fits of coughing, which were followed by nervous restlessness. The body physician was called frequently to his majesty's room during the night.

Sunday morning the patient arose at his usual hour but he was not able to attend the divine service that had been arranged and consequently the mass was not said.

In spite of the doctor's advice the emperor insisted upon receiving the heads of his civil and military cabinets. General Bolfras, his aide de camp, stayed with him for an hour. At the end of this interview his majesty was somewhat fatigued.

The doctors found that the catarrh was slightly better, but the patient still has fits of violent, dry coughing.

SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT.

Condition of Emperor Francis Joseph Is Stationary.

Vienna, Oct. 16.—According to the most trustworthy information the condition of Emperor Francis Joseph shows no improvement. The fever has returned to a moderate extent, but in spite of this, his majesty remains in good spirits and Tuesday he expressed a desire for physical exercise.

It is understood that arrangements are being made to heat two galleries in the Schoenbrunn palace in order that he may there take his walks under similar conditions of temperature as obtained in his bedroom. A hammock will be swung in the bedroom in order that his majesty may rest at intervals should he experience fatigue. It is expected that this experience will afford relief to the hacking cough. This phase of the illness of the emperor has abated but little and it occasions him severe headaches.

The semi-official communications appear rather optimistic in the matter of the progress of the malady, but they add that the condition of the patient is stationary.

The minister of finance declared at the opening of the bourse that Mrs. Chadwick's illness was pursuing a satisfactory course and it would therefore seem evident that no immediate danger is feared.

"Is he a man who uses good judgment?" "Excellent. But he always puts it to use about a day too late."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

WILL MEET IN WASHINGTON

Republican National Committee to Decide Upon Convention City.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The Republican national committee will meet in this city Dec. 6 and 7 for the purpose of deciding upon the place and time for holding the next Republican national convention.

Formal announcement to this effect was made Sunday night by Harry S. New, acting chairman of the Republican national committee.

Acting Chairman New who arrived here Sunday held a conference with Elmer Dover, secretary of the committee, when the time for holding the meeting of the committee was decided upon. The official call for the meeting will be issued within a day or two.

According to Mr. New, a number of cities have made formal application to secure the next convention, among them being Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Denver, Seattle, Atlantic City and Pittsburg.

From Milwaukee and St. Paul also have come inquiries as to their prospects for securing the convention, but Mr. New said that at this time he was not committed to any particular city.

"The next convention is going to attract a larger number of people than have heretofore attended," said Mr. New, "and there are four considerations to be taken into account in deciding upon a place for holding the convention. The first is the accessibility of the town. It must possess adequate transportation facilities; second, it must have ample first-class hotel accommodations; third, it must provide a good hall, sufficient in size and susceptible of being arranged for the accommodation of the convention, and further it must possess adequate facilities for the distribution of news."

KING GETS A DUCKING.

Spanish Ruler's Automobile Plunges Into the Water.

Fauresa, Spain, Oct. 21.—King Alfonso had a narrow escape from a serious accident near here Sunday. In his automobile the king was going over a temporary bridge when the light structure collapsed under the weight of the car, which was precipitated into the water. His majesty escaped with a wetting.

Gasoline Cheaper Than Wood Alcohol.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 21.—As a result of a series of experiments at the United States geological survey fuel testing plant at the Jamestown exposition to determine the relative fuel value of certain fuel products, it has been found that it takes 1½ gallons of denatured alcohol to produce as much power as a gallon of gasoline, although alcohol costs about twice as much as the gasoline.

Gives Names of Accomplices.

Limoges, France, Oct. 21.—Antoine Thomas, the Frenchman who conducted the series of thefts of religious works of art from churches in France, the discovery of which a fortnight ago aroused astonishment throughout this country, has written a letter to the judge by whom he will be examined detailing the extent of his thefts, disclosing the names of his accomplices, furnishing dates and indicating witnesses.

Football Player Killed.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—W. C. Albrecht, twenty-one years old, died from injuries received during a football game Sunday afternoon. Albrecht was playing right guard on a local team and while lining up after a scrimmage fell unconscious on the field. He was found to be suffering from cerebral hemorrhage, which caused his death two hours later.

Hunter Accidentally Shot.

Kennan, Wis., Oct. 21.—Joseph Ager, a resident of this village, accidentally shot himself while hunting. The bullet entered the abdomen and the injury may prove fatal.

Fatal Collision of Trains.

Cincinnati, Oct. 21.—Train No. 28 on the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Springfield division of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad crashed into a street car, killing Mrs. J. W. Storey instantly and injuring three others, one of whom will probably die. The gateman had lowered the gate for a Southern train and did not see the approach of the northbound flyer, which was going about thirty miles an hour at the time.

White Africans.
The Berbers, who, although African, are as white as Europeans, are the oldest white race on record, says an explorer. They are supposed to have come from the south of Europe in ancient days, the Dundee Advertiser says, and, although their language and customs are entirely different from ours and their religion Mohammedan, they are probably closely akin by descent. Blue eyes and fair hair are not at all uncommon among the Berbers, and many of them have rosy cheeks and features so like our own that were they dressed in British fashion they would easily pass as natives of the British isles.
